

WTU3A SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY TRIPS 2021

WHEN	5 th October 2021
WHERE	Milton Keynes Museum
WHAT	The Museum was founded in 1973 when a group of local people began to collect items found in farms and factories that were being closed down to make way for the development of Milton Keynes, the UK's last 'new city'. Milton Keynes Development Corporation allowed the enthusiasts to house the items in Stacey Hill Farm, Wolverton. The estate itself had strong historical interest having been bought by the eminent physician Dr John Radcliffe in 1713, when he became MP for Buckingham. The volunteers formed themselves into the Stacey Hill Society to develop the collection with the long term aim of creating a proper museum. Since this time, ownership of the collection has remained separate from the ownership of the land and buildings. The Collection contains: Connected Earth featuring the history of communications and a fully working telephone exchange, Farm exhibits, A street of shops, A Victorian house containing Musical instruments, a Victorian school, Local Archaeological artefacts, The history of Dr John Radcliffe and the trust he set up. The museum is open just for us on this day so we have free range to explore as we wish after a guided tour. When we arrive there will Tea/Coffee available before we start the tour http://www.miltonkeynesmuseum.org.uk/
