AGM and "The Palace of Knightsbridge" – The History of Harrods
– Richard Furnival-Jones

The story of how Harrods grew from a small family shop in the 1840s with a staff of two plus messenger boy to today's huge Knightsbridge department empire with 330 departments and thousands of staff. Fascinating facts included Oscar Wilde and Lillie Langtry being among the first customers to be given credit and customers being offered smelling salts or brandy after surviving a trip on England's first escalator in 1898.

Richard Furnival-Jones was a trainee in the food hall in 1963. He worked his way up to become food hall manager before retiring after more than 40 years. Sharing his entertaining memories and stating that "Harrods is a family. When I went to work there I became part of that family."

The story of double agent Edward (Eddie) Chapman – Zigzag Spy
– Paul Barwick

Edward Arnold Chapman (16 November 1914 – 11 December 1997) was an English criminal and wartime spy. During the Second World War he offered his services to Nazi Germany as a spy and subsequently became a British double agent. His British Secret Service handlers codenamed him Agent Zigzag in acknowledgement of his erratic personal history and he was the only serving member of the British Army to be awarded the Iron Cross on the authority of Adolf Hitler!

Tring Market Auctions – Stephen Hearn

Stephen Hearn was previously part of Brown and Merry, a company formed in Tring, in 1832, and he has been operating independently since 1992. When the original company started, it occupied part of the old cattle market, utilising the buildings when available, for auctions.

It now has an extensive purpose built auction house, forming probably one of the largest and best known auction venues of its type in the Home Counties. Their sales attract a wide range of buyers from across Great Britain and internationally, many representing the trade and other specialist collectors.

With the addition of online bidding, there are now regular buyers from the Continent and beyond.

The sales room permanent staff and consultants are able to deal with all periods of antique furniture, fine art, collectables and general effects, totalling over 2000 lots. They can also help with probate valuations, insurance, taxation and house clearances. Their experienced auctioneers help provide a friendly and entertaining atmosphere on sale day, making it an enjoyable venue for both business and pleasure.

Oh No It Isn't: A History of Pantomime (Festive Talk) – by Pete Allen

What is it about Pantomime that attracts us to this strange concoction of fairy tales, dance, jokes, songs and cross-dressing? And what is it really like to play the back end of a Pantomime Cow? All this – and the answer to whether something really is behind you – will be answered in this festive Talk about what has become one of the great British Christmas tradition.
