

Understanding Architecture Study day
Thursday 24th and Friday 25th September 10.30am via Zoom

Dear U3A members,

There are still a few places left at the 'Understanding Architecture' study day planned for next week.

Due to the Covid-19 pandemic we are presenting this via Zoom so that we abide by the Government guidelines on social distancing but also continue to offer you the opportunity to continue learning. Zoom also offers the opportunity to remain in visual contact with one another and so relieves that sense of isolation that many of us felt during lockdown.

I realise that there is some reticence to try Zoom but truly it IS easy and to overcome any fears our Webmaster, David Morton, has agreed to demonstrate and talk us all through the simple actions needed to use the system before our lectures actually begin. So, it's a 2for1 study day, Zoom demo and architecture lectures all for £5 per person.

I am attaching the application form and the programme should you wish to attend. Please complete and return as soon as possible as there is not much time left. Email me if you have any problems.

Best regards,
